King James 1769 Version (9) And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight. (10) And while they looked stedfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel; (11) Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven. (12) Then returned they unto Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is from Jerusalem a sabbath day's journey. (13) And when they were come in, they went up into an upper room, where abode both Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas the brother of James. (14) These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren. <ul> <li>2:13d - new wine (sweet wine, alcoholic) gluekous {γλευκους} Note: King James Version does not make a distinction between "new wine" and "sweet wine", but it is clear from the context that the disciples were accused of being drunk. The Greek text uses the word gluekous [we get the word glucose from] which is sweet wine. Technically, "new wine" is grape juice that has not fermented, "sweet wine" is alcoholic [grape juice that has fermented].</li> <li>2:15e - third hour of the day - 9 o'clock in the morning - people who get drunk usually do so at night or late evening, not early in the morning</li> </ul>

<ul> <li>12:4c - quaternions - four soldiers, so 4 quaternions = 16 soldiers</li> <li>12:4d - Easter - modern translations incorrectly say Passover, but if it is the days of Unleavened Bread [v. 3], Passover has already passed. – this is one of the places where the King James version varies from the Greek Received Text which also says "Passover" rather than "Easter" – the verse could read: "after the Passover holidays" but the King James version solves this problem by using the word "Easter." The Bishops Bible published in 1568 also uses Easter.</li> </ul>

<ul> <li>21:29d – Acts 20:4</li> <li>21:29e – note that Luke has been with Paul the whole time [see Acts 21:1-18] but Luke points out that the Jews thought Paul had brought Trophimus an Ephesian into the temple [although Luke tells us that was not the case] If Luke was a Gentile as many speculate, since Luke was with Paul the whole time, it would seem that the Jews would have been concerned that Luke may have been brought to the temple. But since Luke was in fact a Jew, the possibility that Luke had entered the temple was not an issue! See note on Luke 1. – See Was Luke a Gentile? at www.TheWordNotes.com</li> </ul>

<ul> <li>(30) And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship,</li> <li>(31) Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved.</li> <li>(32) Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.</li> <li>(33) And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saving, This day is the fourteenth day that ye have tarried and continued fasting, having taken nothing.</li> <li>(34) Wherefore I pray you to take some meat: for this is for your health: for there shall not an hair fall from the head of any of you.</li> <li>(35) And when he had thus spoken, he took bread, and gave thanks to God in presence of them all: and when he had broken it, he began to eat.</li> <li>(36) Then were they all of good cheer, and they also took some meat.</li> <li>(37) And we were in all in the ship two hundred threescore and sixteen souls.</li> <li>(38) And when it was day, they knew not the land: but they discovered a certain creek with a shore, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.</li> <li>(40) And when they had taken up the anchors, they committed themselves unto the sea, and loosed the rudder bands, and hoised up the mainsail to the wind, and made toward shore.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>(30) And as the sailors were about to flee they acted as though they were going to let down anchors at the front of the ship, but let down the life boat to escape.</li> <li>(31) Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Unless these stay in the ship, you cannot be saved.</li> <li>(32) Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the life boat, and let her fall off.</li> <li>(33) And while the day was coming on, Paul encouraged them all to take food, saying, Today is the fourteenth day that you have stayed and continued fasting, having taken nothing.</li> <li>(34) Therefore I urge {encourage} you to take some food: because this is for your health: because there shall not a hair fall from the head of any of you.</li> <li>(35) And when he had so spoken, he took bread, and gave thanks to God in the presence of them all: and when he had broken it, he began to eat.</li> <li>(36) Then they were all of good cheer, and they also took some food.</li> <li>(37) And there were two hundred seventysix of us in all in the ship.</li> <li>(38) And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.</li> <li>(39) And when they had taken up the anchors, they committed themselves to the sa, and loosed the rudder bands, and hoisted up the mainsail to the wind, and made toward shore.</li> </ul>

<ul> <li>(41) And falling into a place where two seas met, they ran the ship aground; and the forepart stuck fast, and remained unmoveable, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves.</li> <li>(42) And the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape.</li> <li>(43) But the centurion, willing to save Paul, kept them from their purpose; and commanded that they which could swim should cast themselves first into the sea, and get to land:</li> <li>(44) And the rest, some on boards, and some on broken pieces of the ship. And so it came to pass, that they escaped all safe to land.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>(41) And falling into a place where two seas met, they ran the ship aground; and the front stuck fast, and remained unmovable, but the back part was broken with the violence of the waves.</li> <li>(42) And the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape.</li> <li>(43) But the centurion, wanting to save Paul, kept them from their purpose; and commanded that those who could swim should cast themselves first into the sea, and get to land:</li> <li>(44) And the rest, some on boards, and some on broken pieces of the ship.
